The card and the timings

A stadium night is a run of bouts, called the card. It usually builds from the least experienced fighters early to the main event late in the evening. (Editorial)

STADIUM (ITS OWN SITE, READ 29 OCT 2026)	GATES / FIRST BOUT	BOUTS ON THE NIGHT
Rajadamnern, Bangkok	Gates 5pm or 6pm, depending on the night	7 to 9 bouts on the events it lists
Bangla Boxing Stadium, Patong	Doors 8pm; first bout 9pm; runs to around midnight	8 bouts

How the evening runs (Editorial)

- Arrive early if you want to see the whole card and choose a seat in unassigned sections.
- The early bouts are often young fighters. They can be the most exciting fights of the night.
- The main event comes late. Ask staff roughly when it will start if you want to time your arrival.
- Food and drink: most stadiums have kiosks or bars. Bangla says its ground floor has bars and snack vendors.

> Fight night → the next morning's training is light or off. Put the night in your week before you book the ticket.
